Undercover Risk Analysis

October 19 and 20, 2010

Duration: 2 days (15 Hours)

Designed for: Any law enforcement officer

Course description: This course will identify and reinforce the principles of safe undercover, arrest and warrant service tactics. Students will learn how to assess risk, determine if the risk is of an acceptable level and then how to manage that risk. They will also learn when and how to shut down an operation due to excessive risk. Objectives will be met by use of classroom lecture, student participation and shared experiences, review of critical incidents and with a practical exercise wherein each student will have the opportunity to work undercover.

Prerequisites: None

Street Gang

October 26, 27, and 28, 2010

Duration: 3 Days (24 Hours)

Designed for: Law Enforcement / Code Enforcement, Corrections, Military, Demand reduction professionals, Probation & Parole

Course description: Street gangs are plaguing cities and towns across the United States at a rapid rate. While the crime rate has dropped significantly in most states within the US, gang membership and migration has greatly increased and gangs have spread from urban areas to suburban and rural communities. With the spread of these gangs has come the scourge of crime, violence, drugs, and decrease in quality of life conditions. Gangs and their violence have significantly affected officer safety. Officer Safety and Survival issues and legal issues will be discussed. Interdiction and basic investigation methods are taught with an emphasis on teamwork to fight gangs. This course is especially useful to members of all types of law enforcement agencies (Police, Corrections, Sheriffs, Probation, Parole, Federal Agencies, Constables, Local and State Investigative Agencies, etc...) and will significantly increase the efficiency of small agencies and agencies with little or no manpower or resources available to dedicate to fighting gangs.

This 3 day course will explore the origins, history, current trends, identifiers and dynamics of street gangs in the United States. This course will identify and examine numerous influential gangs by geographic location, threat level, specialty, and their interactions with each other. Jurisdictions will be discussed; identifying areas of operation both on the street and in correctional facilities across the country. The intent of this course is to prepare officers in both large and small agencies to properly identify and interdict gang activity in their respective jurisdictions; and to understand and communicate the impact this activity may have on other jurisdictions and correctional facilities. Officers will learn how to utilize this inter-agency information network to combine efforts in combating street gangs.

Conducting Complete Traffic Stops

November 8 and 9, 2010

Duration: 2 days (16 hours)

Designed for: Any law enforcement officer

Course Description: This two-day course examines the relationship between motor vehicle law enforcement and the detection of criminal activity. Students will learn techniques and skills to employ during roadside stops and interviews. Officer safety is stressed. Indicators and identification of concealed compartments are emphasized as well as indicators of other criminal activities. Consent to search and other legal considerations are covered.

Prerequisites: None.

Hotel/Motel and Parcel Interdiction

November 16 and 17, 2010

Duration: 2 days (16 Hours)

Designed for: Any Law Enforcement Agent

Course description: This two-day class focuses on hotel/motel, airport, and parcel interdiction. In addition, the training provides an update on legal and constitutional issues related to each interdiction technique. Topics to be discussed are: legal and constitutional law review; criminal activity indicators; contacts with hotel/motel members; commercial airlines passenger name records; computer tips and airport concealment methods; hand-written and computer generated parcel airbills; overview of the El Paso Intelligence Center and the International Narcotic Interdiction Association; and different computer and Internet based systems that can be used as intelligence gathering tools.

Prerequisites: none.
